

Small Order Oregon interior designer Jessica Helgerson did a wide-ranging revamp of this small abode. The most stunning bit is a complete recast of the bathtub, which she salvaged from a demolition site. "It came with heinous chrome feet," she reports. So Helgerson leaned on her architect husband Yianni Doulis to fashion a new wooden stand for the shapely, swooping tub.

"I try to get the tub perpendicular in the room so it's out of the way. Less like a hall of open space, more like a square."

—Designer Jessica Helgerson

PROJECT:
Tiny House

DESIGNER:
Jessica Helgerson
Interior Design

LOCATION:
Sauvie Island, Oregon

COMPLETED: 2010

PHOTOGRAPHER:
Lincoln Barbour

Elegance tub and #433 floor-mounted bathtub fill and hand shower
by Sunrise Specialty
sunrisespecialty.com

Custom-built bathtub stand by Yianni Doulis
ydarchitecture.com

Window
by Loewen
loewen.com

Liberty pedestal lavatory sink
by St. Thomas Creations stthomascreations.com

Cafe curtain rod
by Rejuvenation
rejuvenation.com

White oak flooring

